THE TEAM

JEAN CLAUDE LE CORNEC

Founder of SDPO and Organizer of the Ultra Trail Angkor

Former Inspector at AIRBUS Helicopters, he launched the Silk Road Run for the first time in 1996 — which, it should be remembered, “WAS THE FIRST EVENT IN THE WORLD TO COMBINE SPORT AND CULTURE.”

LINH TUAN LE

Associate Director of PHOENIX Voyages and partner of SDPO

Linh Tuan leverages his entire network to secure the necessary permits for the smooth running of the race at the Angkor archaeological site.

EDOUARD DANA

President of RIVA Editions

In this capacity, he produces reports for specialized media (ESPRIT Trail, RUNNING Attitude, JOGGING International, etc.) that cover the entire Ultra-Trail of Angkor, much to everyone’s delight.

GRÉGOIRE PICHENOT

Race Director

This computer programmer and Director of PIROG Engineering joined the SDPO team in 2009. He designed and managed SDPO's first websites as well as the timing system for all events organized in Asia.

GERMAIN PICHENOT

Technical Director

He oversees all SDPO's IT development and sets up communication equipment to ensure technical logistics on site.

LAURENT D'ONGHIA

Technical Assistant

He coordinates the various teams deployed throughout the course, ensuring smooth organization on the ground and quick responsiveness in case of unforeseen events.

PHILIPPE ARMENGAUD

Medical

Physiotherapist and osteopath for nearly 30 years in high-level sports (athletics, rugby, squash, motor racing). Former rugby player (Castres Olympique, Blagnac SC).

LAURENCE TANGE

Official race photographer

She captures the intensity of the race at every edition. Through her lens, she seizes the emotion, effort, and beauty of the moment, delivering authentic and striking images.

FRANCIS TANGE

He is a valuable asset to the organization. At expos, he stands out for his ability to connect with participants. On the ground in Cambodia, he applies his technical expertise to course marking.

Not to forget the rest of the staff, who work tirelessly behind the scenes to accomplish countless essential tasks and ensure the smooth running of the Ultra Trail of Angkor.
